
I. Background

1. The General Assembly, through its resolution 662 (XXI), requested the Secretary-General to constitute a Working Group composed of Member States under the responsibility of the Executive Council in charge of reviewing the current procedure for amending the Statutes and eventually preparing the text of an amendment to Article 33 of the Statutes, in order to submit it to the next session of the General Assembly for its approval.

2. The Working Group made a proposal of amendment to Article 33 of the Statutes and submitted its draft text to the 103rd session of the Executive Council held in Malaga, Spain. The Executive Council, through Decision 13 (CIII), approved the proposal and endorsed the draft text by the Working Group, requesting the Secretary-General to submit it to the 22nd session of the General Assembly for approval.

3. The Council also requested the Working Group to analyze the pending amendments to the Statutes (i.e. those that have not been approved by two thirds of the member States and are thus not in force) and list those that would be effective upon the entry into force of the new amendment procedure in order to submit a proposal to the 105th session of the Executive Council for its approval and recommendations to the 22nd session of the General Assembly.

II. The new wording of Article 33 submitted to the General Assembly for approval

4. The wording of Article 33 approved by the 103rd Executive Council and that will be submitted to the 22nd session of the General Assembly reads as follows:

Article 33

1. Any suggested amendment to the present Statutes and its Annex shall be transmitted to the Secretary-General who shall circulate it to the Full Members at least six months before being submitted to the consideration of the Assembly.

2. An amendment shall be voted by the Assembly and adopted by a two-thirds majority of Full Members present and voting.
3. An amendment shall come into force for all Members within 3 months after it has been adopted by the Assembly, unless the resolution by which it is adopted provides that the procedure established in paragraph 4 shall be applicable.

4. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph 3, any amendment to Articles 4, 5, 6, 7, 9, 14, 23, 25, 28, 33 or 35 of the Statutes, or to the Financing Rules, or any amendment involving fundamental alterations in the aims or the structure of the Organization or to the rights and obligations for the member States -so determined by the General Assembly- shall come into force for all Members forthwith when two-thirds of the member States have notified the Depositary Government of their approval of such amendment. The General Assembly may also establish a deadline for member States to notify the approval of such amendment.

III. Rationale for the new wording proposed by the Working Group

A. The lengthy process of amendment of the Statutes does not allow the adaptation of the Organization to the actual will of its organs in a timely manner.

5. The process of approval of amendments to the Statutes and Financing Rules is extremely long: out of ten amendments adopted by the General Assembly only one has come into force and it took 29 years for it to obtain the required 2/3 of Member States’ approvals.

6. The slow pace of approval of amendments does not allow the Organization to adapt to the will of its Members in a timely manner. Further, it has forced the Organization to apply provisionally some of the amendments (i.e. the change of currency from United States dollar to euro), being a practice not in line with the Statutes, as otherwise the Organization would have not been operational.

7. Similar problems have been experienced in other UN Agencies and International Organizations and on several occasions have been examined by the United Nations but nothing more than simple palliatives have been found to resolve them. However, some UN Agencies such as UNESCO, UNIDO and IFAD have adopted a more flexible approach in the procedure of amendment to their constituent treaty, particularly when the changes do not affect new obligations for the Members or other essential pillars of the Organization.

B. A twofold solution that provides flexibility while ensuring legal security and stability in the constitutional development of the Organization

8. After reviewing the analysis carried out by the Secretariat on the amendment procedure in other International Organizations and Agencies of the United Nations System, the Member States of the Working Group immediately opted for the system followed by UNESCO, where amendments which involve fundamental alterations in the aims of the Organization or new obligations for the member States are the ones requiring a 2/3 of ratifications while all other amendments, except as otherwise provided by the Governing Body, enter into force immediately once adopted.

9. In the case of UNWTO, the new wording proposed foresees two procedures: a more flexible one where amendments which do not involve fundamental alterations in the aims and/or structure of the Organization or new obligations for the member States enter into force immediately after three months of their adoption by the Assembly (the three months period is conceived to provide with an even greater legal certainty to the process, leaving time to the Depositary to notify the amendments, internal proceedings such as translation of the texts, internal procedures to undertake, when necessary, by Member States, etc.) and a second one that still requires being approved by 2/3 of member States in the case of amendments which involve fundamental alterations in the aims and structure of the Organization or new obligations for the member States.
10. For the latter procedure, the proposed wording also opens the possibility for the General Assembly to establish a deadline for member States to ratify amendments, taking into consideration both the nature of the amendment and the characteristics of the approval process (including political and social conditions). At the conclusion of the time limit, the corresponding amendment should be considered as having lapsed if it has not reached the 2/3 of approvals.

11. Finally, the Members of the Working Group agreed that any amendment should be voted by the Assembly and approved by a two-thirds majority of Full Members present and voting. The Members of the Working Group reasoned that voting requires a higher degree of involvement that could ensure a stronger commitment of Member States and therefore, it constitutes a more appropriate decision making procedure for amendments.

IV. Procedure for the approval of the amendment to Article 33 of the Statutes

12. The twofold amendment procedure contained within the new Article 33 is set to serve as a turning point for the Organization which will allow it to adapt to the will of its organs in a timely manner while ensuring legal security and stability in its statutory framework. For this reason, it is utmost important for the functioning of the Organization to have it enter into force as soon as possible, if adopted by the 22nd session of the General Assembly that will take place in Chengdu, China, as this would also imply the entry into force of certain pending amendments that will be proposed by the Working Group.

13. By and large, when an amendment is adopted by the General Assembly very few member States initiate forthwith the domestic proceedings to approve it. By not doing so, newly adopted amendments generally lose political momentum, resulting in subsequent efforts by the Secretariat and the Governing Bodies to remind member States to complete the corresponding procedure so that all duly adopted amendments enter into force.

14. In light of the above, the Working Group requested the Secretary-General to inform all member States well in advance, notably through the Regional Commissions, of the importance of an amendment to the Statutes which is to be considered at the incoming session of the General Assembly. Consequently, member States might also be able to initiate the corresponding domestic proceedings in accordance with their constitutional procedures and practices, so that by the time such amendment is adopted by the Assembly each Member State may proceed with its approval on a swifter and more efficient manner.

15. The Secretariat wishes to remind that, in accordance with Article 33 of the Statutes, in order for an amendment to enter into force no formal instrument of ratification is required but rather member States are simply required to notify the Depositary Government of their approval of such amendment.

V. Actions to be taken by the Regional Commission

16. The Regional Commission is invited:

(a) To thank the Working Group for their work and to take note of the review of the procedure of amendment to the Statutes and Financing Rules pursuing the objectives of amending Article 33 of the Statutes, as set out in Resolution A/RES/662(XXI) and Decision CE/DEC/13(CIII), and of the new text submitted to the 22nd session of the General Assembly for approval;
(b) To call upon member States to do everything in their power to initiate any domestic proceedings as necessary for the approval of the amendment to Article 33 in order to be able to notify the Depositary of their approval of such amendment shortly after if has been adopted by the General Assembly and thus accelerate the entry into force of the new amendment procedure; and

(c) To urge member States to approve all the pending amendments to the Statutes and the Financing Rules contained in Annex I as soon as possible.

(c) A Member which is in arrears in the payment of its financial contributions to the Organization's expenditure shall be deprived of the privileges enjoyed by the Members in the form of services and the right to vote in the Assembly and the Council if the amount of its arrears equals or exceeds the amount of the contributions due from it for the preceding two financial years.
