I. Introduction

- The world is facing an unprecedented global health, social and economic emergency due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Travel and tourism is without any doubt among the most affected sectors. In an unprecedented shock, the COVID-19 pandemic has cut international tourist arrivals in the first quarter of 2020 sharply down.

- Available data points to a double-digit decrease of 22% in Q1 2020, with arrivals in March down by 57%. This translates into a loss of 67 million international arrivals and about USD 80 billion in export revenues from international tourism in just three months. Arrivals to Africa in the first quarter are estimated to be down 12%.

- Current scenarios for the year point to declines of 58% to 78% in international tourist arrivals in 2020, depending on the speed of the containment, the duration of travel restrictions and the reopening of national borders, although the outlook remains highly uncertain.

- This would translate into:
  - a drop of 850 million to 1.1 billion international arrivals
  - a loss of US$ 910 billion to US$ 1.2 trillion in export revenues
  - 100 to 120 million direct tourism jobs at risk.

- The impact is expected to be even more significant in many of the Small Island Developing States where tourism accounts for over 50% of the GDP and where the domestic market, the first to be expected to rebound, is marginal.

II. UNWTO Response

1. Monitoring the impact

   Assessing the Impact of COVID-19 on International Tourism

- In order to provide comprehensive, reliable and update information on the impact of COVID-19 on international tourism, UNWTO released a first assessment report in early March with subsequent updates the latest of which – the UNWTO World Tourism Barometer, May 2020 – provides an evaluation of the first quarter of 2020 and forward looking scenarios for 2020.

- UNWTO has also created an interactive online system to provide updated information to all Members – the UNWTO Global Tourism Dashboard on Tourism and COVID-19.

   Monitoring COVID-19 Related Travel Restrictions – A Global Review for Tourism

- The UNWTO is regularly monitoring travel restrictions caused by the pandemic. COVID-19 Related Travel Restrictions - A Global Review For Tourism provides an overview and analysis on the implementation of travel restrictions by governments as one of the means to address the global health crisis of COVID-19.

- The reports are updated on a regular basis to support mitigation and recovery efforts of the tourism sector, providing a global overview of the measures in place and analysing them from a tourism perspective. With a view to supporting the responsible and successful implementation of exit strategies through which countries are planning the gradual recovery of their tourism sector, the reports also aim at identifying critical issues and best practices of COVID-19 related travel measures and their implications on tourism.

- The monitoring of travel restrictions is carried out from the standpoint of travel facilitation for tourism purposes (i.e., focusing on temporary visitors/tourists) and does not take into account measures that are directed to residents, diplomats and other categories of travellers. In addition, these reports do not consider travel advisories issued by governments for their respective citizens/residents.

2. Policy Guidance and Coordination

The Global Tourism Crisis Committee

- In order to ensure a coordinated and effective response, the Secretary-General established the Global Tourism Crisis Committee with the international public and private sector stakeholders, which held its first meeting on 19 March.

UNWTO online monitoring system on country and international policy response to mitigate the effects of COVID-19

- The online dashboard on country and international policy response to mitigate the effects of COVID-19 provides unique global and weekly updated information on the policies in place in over 160 countries, as well as support by international and regional organizations that are relevant for tourism.

- Information shows that governments have responded quickly and strongly with the level and coverage of measures stepping up over time, and that most countries have adopted economy-wide stimulus packages (fiscal and monetary measures) along with job protection measures.

- Out of the 166 countries reporting measures, more than 139 countries have adopted fiscal and monetary policies, followed by policies supporting jobs and training which have been implemented by 93 countries. Fiscal and monetary policies are also the most widely implemented in all regions.

- The most recent measures for restarting tourism are primarily being adopted in Europe and Asia and the Pacific.

Position tourism as a global policy priority in the response to the crisis

- The Secretariat continues its active role in the UN Chief Executive Board (CEB) and its Executive Bodies and related networks, by strengthening the importance and recognition of tourism governance at the global level and the providing the Organization with opportunities to scale up its delivery capacity as well as to lead by example in the UN work for COVID-19.

- We are at the beginning of the United Nations “Decade of Action”. With just 10 years remaining to fulfill the 2030 Agenda and its Global Goals, UNWTO is making sure tourism is at the heart of the conversation through its global advocacy efforts in the development and trade agendas. In practice, UNWTO has organized discussions with the World Trade Organization (WTO) on Tourism Financing for the 2030 Agenda aiming at scaling up International Aid flows for Tourism Financing for the 2030 Agenda and has partnered with the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA) in an initiative that builds on both G20 Declaration of T20 Ministers in Japan, as well as UNWTO leadership in the 2030 Agenda to strengthen Tourism Governance.

Tourism and SDGs – contributing to the 2030 Development Agenda

- In order to accelerate and scale up the achievement of the SDGs through tourism, UNWTO is engaged in several work streams in the public domain and with its tourism stakeholders, including the Affiliate Members. In order to widely share with and inspire policy makers and businesses, the Tourism4SDGs.org platform has been tweaked and enhanced in include a focus area for COVID-19 related actions in order to allow users to not only access a wide range of resources, add their own initiatives, findings and projects, motivate discussion and collaboration, and share content related to tourism and sustainable development, but to share and incorporate initiatives that address the COVID-19 response. The space also provides a roadmap for the tourism sector towards 2030, to build a smarter, competitive, inclusive and sustainable sector for the people and planet. The work aims at mainstreaming tourism to contribute to SDG 17 of the 2030 Agenda.
Other functionalities in the platform for measuring tourism impact on the ground for tourism projects are currently ongoing.

- In addition, the Secretariat is coordinating with the United Nations (UN) system on the integration of a forthcoming Report on the UNWTO Tourism Ethics Convention, the approval of the MST with the UN Statistical Commission and the Resolutions on Sustainable Tourism with the UN General Assembly in 2020. UNWTO is also contributing to the 2020 HLPF to be held in July.

Increase resources and strengthen UNWTO’s capacity through partnerships - UNWTO and International Financial Institutions and International Organizations

- UNWTO is currently undertaking a major step in assessing the required endogenous changes required in order to strengthen UNWTO’s institutional framework to be aligned with the development multilateral and bilateral partners’ requirements. Close monitoring and planning were introduced for extrabudgetary flows, indicating that International Finance Institutions (IFIs) are providing currently the biggest percentage of extrabudgetary resources to support projects on the ground for Members.

- With the aim of supporting Members States (MS) to recover quicker from the COVID-19 pandemic and have access to current resources, regular, comprehensive, and ongoing research on regional or global actions by International Organizations and International Financial Institutions (IFIs), has been undertaken and been shared with MS.

- UNWTO is currently strengthening and expanding its relations with IFIs through the negotiation of global framework agreements which will scale up and facilitate further joint delivery. Among the main results have been the signature of a MoU (October, 2019) and of a framework agreement (May 2020) with the European Bank of Reconstruction and Development, leading to already securing funding for recovery efforts for several Member States, and nearly finalized negotiations for the signature of a framework agreement with the World Bank Group.

- UNWTO has been successfully including tourism within the UN system response for socioeconomic recovery, forging a strong partnership with the United Nations Development system at large.

3. Technical Assistance

COVID-19 Tourism Recovery Technical Assistance Package

- In the COVID-19 aftermath, countries have to face a new reality of the tourism and travel industry and make every possible effort to shape the sector accordingly. It is advisable that countries try to make optimum utilization of available resources, knowledge and experience to put the sector back on the rails. In order to assist Member States to address the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the tourism sector and develop an approach to recovery, UNWTO has developed a “COVID-19 Tourism Recovery Technical Assistance Package”. The Package is structured around three main pillars: 1) Economic Recovery; 2) Marketing and Promotion; and 3) Institutional Strengthening and Building Resilience.

- The Tourism Recovery Package includes a comprehensive list of technical assistance activities, including both activities of a longer duration and with a wide scope, such as the development of new strategies, and activities of a relatively short duration with a specific focus, such as advice and training on selected topics. Depending on the situation in a country, Member States may need different technical assistance activities at various stages of the COVID-19 mitigation and recovery process. In consultation with individual Member States, tailor-made packages can be prepared with one or more technical assistance activities for the short and medium term.
In mid-May, UNWTO sent the Technical Assistance Package to all Member States, and within one week responses were received from over 10 countries from all regions of the world, expressing interest in the Package. The budget for implementing technical assistance activities would have to be provided either directly by Member States or through external donors. UNWTO is actively liaising with development agencies to mobilize resources, and first commitments have been made by agencies to provide funding.

4. Innovation, Investments and Digital Transformation

- UNWTO Healing Solutions for Tourism Challenge: In response to the COVID-19 impact on tourism, the UNWTO launched the Healing Solutions for Tourism Challenge on 25 March this year. It has identified the top 9 initiatives to address the crisis from the health, economy and destination management perspectives and has presented them to the world tourism innovation ecosystem on 7 May. Throughout the 4-week call, 1183 projects from 110 countries were received. Colombia with 147 applications, Spain with 129 and USA with 60 applications were the top participating countries. Solutions mostly use technologies such as Virtual and Augmented Reality, Internet of Things, Artificial Intelligence, Big Data and Blockchain to deliver their impact.

- UNWTO SDGs Global Startup Competition: Seeking the long-term recovery of tourism, our flagship annual startup competition has become the world’s largest call to reach the most disruptive entrepreneurs from all economic sectors whose projects directly contribute to accelerate the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and can be adapted to corporations and destinations for complying with the UN Decade of Action. This project will be launched in the second half of the year.

- UNWTO Tourism Online Academy: With more than 4000 students, the platform has experienced remarkable growth after the start of the COVID-19 pandemic. During this year, and immersed in Phase 2 of the project, the Tourism Online Academy will involve 3 to 5 top universities from different countries all over the world and develop the courses in languages other than English. UNWTO is working closely with Cornell University, Externado de Colombia University, PolyU University, Northwestern University and Les Roches. A marketing plan to exponentially extend the international reach of the platform will be also implemented. In addition, different packages of scholarships will be allocated to our Member States.

- 2nd UNWTO Acceleration Programme: Following its first edition in January, this programme will continue to deliver benefits to our Member States regarding training and capacity building for governments and entrepreneurs.

- Investments promotion: Reaching out to multilateral cooperation to develop potential economic recovery projects based on ongoing initiatives - International Finance Corporation (IFC), Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) and the African Development Bank (AfDB).

- Partnering with the International Finance Corporation (ICF), a member of the World Bank Group: This partnership aims to ensure the tourism sector’s long-term recovery by providing insights and experience in resourcing sustainable buildings and green finance. This initiative starting in June 4 consists of technical training programmes focused on skills for sustainable investments through resource efficiency and accreditations tools including platforms and certifications, identification of potential aggregators across the hotel value chain (investors, owners, operators, franchisees) in order to collaborate in the implementation of sustainability measures, and facilitation of sustainable investment mechanisms by enabling strong environmental, social and governance (ESG) standards and brand reputation to access to green finance opportunities and innovate sources of financing including green bonds, green securitizations and green credit facilities.

5. Education and Training – the UNWTO Academy

- Dedicated Online resources website: Considering the COVID-19 situation, the UNWTO Academy has created a dedicated website ‘Courses, Webinars and Digital Resources’ that compiles different online Education and Training units on different topics, created and offered by UNWTO or Partner Institutions and Experts. Under the slogan "By studying from home today, we can acquire skills for tomorrow", this catalogue of online training initiatives is constantly updated with the contribution of UNWTO TedQual Certified institutions, UNWTO Affiliate Members, and other collaborating institutions and organizations. This new website also includes access to the UNWTO Online Academy, the e-library and articles & publications written and offered by partners on a broad range of subject areas.

6. UNWTO Affiliate Members

In line with the pillars of the UNWTO Affiliate Members Programme of Work for 2020 in the current context, the activities set out below have been carried out to: (a) provide the Organization with the most relevant initiatives of the private sector affiliated to the UNWTO and (b) support the Affiliate Members (AMs) in their efforts to deal with the unprecedented impacts imposed by the COVID-19 Outbreak:

Strengthen UNWTO’s capacity to deliver through the partnership with the affiliated private sector

a. Providing the UNWTO with relevant inputs from the AMs, as contribution to the elaboration of the guidelines, procedures and recovery packages issued by the Organization. To this end:

  - a broad campaign to collect AMs most relevant initiatives has been carried out and the information collected has been regularly shared with the UNWTO structures in charge of developing guidelines and reports;
Affiliate Members are participating in the Global Tourism Crisis Committee, through the institutional representation of the Chair of the Board, bringing solid proposals and action plans.

7. Communications & outreach

The Communications Department is UNWTO’s first responder during the COVID-19 pandemic, giving a voice to UNWTO’s leadership via UNWTO.org, social media, copy and design content production and external engagement (see below).

The increased publication frequency and the creation of a dedicated COVID-19 landing page, have contributed to reaching unprecedented results in terms of public visibility, consolidating the success of the transition to the new communications strategy initiated over the past 24 months and rolled out over the past 12 months:

- +48k media mentions of UNWTO
- 638 million users reached and 47k mentions on Social Media
- +EUR279 million advertisement value equivalency have been generated (what the achieved media presence would have cost).

The public messaging on COVID-19 response builds on the following pillars:

- promoting concrete outputs across the Organization
- clarity in tone and political intention of messages of the Secretary-General
- human angle stories
- strong emphasis on visual elements
- #TravelTomorrow campaign

1. UNWTO website: All over the world, the pandemic has put digital response to the test, and consequently the return on investment of a solid digital infrastructure as now provided through UNWTO.org. The complete overhaul (design, technology, multilanguage contents) has allowed traffic to grow +150% and attract +142% growth in new users, alongside other positive key performance indicators such as duration of sessions and returning users. The dedicated COVID-19 landing page had to be completely updated to accommodate growing output and content diversification. Production volume is running at full capacity, having generated over 87 new internal pages during this period, an interactive map on policy and response measures across the world and a webinar calendar to structure the steep growth of this service for UNWTO users.

2. Social Media and external engagement: The first coherent social media strategy & production policy has paid off. With +640 posts across platforms, UNWTO social followership grew by +40,000 impressions, and likes and organic reach experienced unmatched growth levels across platforms. Social outreach and mass mailings have built on the same narrative and have been mutually reinforcing and also driving web traffic, on the back of 62 mass mailings in 3 languages, reaching +104 million recipients (news releases, SG statements, 4 issues of UN Tourism News).

3. #TravelTomorrow: Promoted through all platforms, it was part of key messaging for the Secretary-General as well as media engagements. The campaign was embraced and actively promoted by Members States, individual destinations, the private sector, and key influencers, reaching on average +14,100 daily mentions on social and legacy media, generating 479 million Twitter impressions and over 46,000 Instagram post mentions. These figures do not yet include the landmark agreement with CNN International to promote #TravelTomorrow, an agreement which proves that UNWTO has been able to identify and position a unique tone and messaging.

4. Content production: A total of 104 copywriting pieces have been produced (news releases, SG statements, interviews, talking points and copy edits), many of them framed in design pieces which totalled 197 (reports, newsletters, GIFs and videos, logos or infographics).

5. Media impact: +48K media mentions reaching a potential audience of almost 638 million is a record success. It is the first time ever that top-tier media regularly cover UNWTO and request information (Forbes, Time, The Guardian, The Atlantic, Bloomberg), amounting to an advertising value of +279 million euros.
III. Regional Focus

The strategic roadmap UNWTO Agenda for Africa - Tourism for inclusive growth\(^2\), is the blueprint that has been guiding the programme of work for the region. Several initiatives and key activities had been programmed for implementation this year in order to respond to the needs of the Member States including key technical cooperation projects in different areas. With the sudden arrival of the pandemic we had to revise our workplan for the year and at the same time continue to deliver on some services to our Members where possible. This included keeping our Members informed of the situation through various themed webinars and a survey was launched in order to understand better what members expected from us in these challenging times whose details are given herewith:

1. Webinars organized by the Department for Africa and delivered to African Members

The impact of the COVID-19 health crisis has disrupted every industry in the global economy and the livelihoods of nations and communities that depend on travel and tourism have been affected in an unprecedented way as a result of travel restrictions and lockdown measures adopted by nations. During these unprecedented times UNWTO has endeavoured to remain engaged and connected with its partners and members and this has been possible with the use of various social media platforms whereby several informative webinars have been conducted on different current issues. The following webinars has been conducted targeted to the African Members’ audience and private sector partners;
