I. INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

World Tourism Organization (UNWTO)

The World Tourism Organization (UNWTO) is the United Nations agency responsible for the promotion of responsible, sustainable and universally accessible tourism. As the leading international organization in the field of tourism, UNWTO promotes tourism as a driver of economic growth, inclusive development and environmental sustainability and offers leadership and support to the sector in advancing knowledge and tourism policies worldwide.

One of the fundamental pillars of UNWTO’s programme of work is the provision of technical assistance to develop and promote the tourism industry as an engine for socio-economic growth and poverty alleviation through the creation of livelihoods.

As a specialized agency of the United Nations, UNWTO provides its technical assistance to Member States in developing their tourism sectors to be competitive while at the same time to promote the creation of sustainable livelihoods, combat poverty, and to preserve and protect cultural and natural heritage.

Importance of Tourism

Tourism is an important driver of economic growth and development, with significant impact on job creation, investment, development of infrastructure, and the promotion of social inclusion.

In 2019, international tourist arrivals grew by 4% reaching 1.5 billion, consolidating the strong results of 2017 (+7%) and 2018 (+6%). The sustained growth of tourism over the last decades has brought immense opportunities for socio-economic welfare, poverty alleviation and the overall advancement of the 17 Goals of the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda. Tourism explicitly features as a target in three of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs): Goals 8, 12 and 14 on inclusive and sustainable economic growth, jobs, sustainable consumption and production (SCP), and the sustainable use of oceans and marine resources, respectively. Yet, given the sheer size, cross-cutting nature and links with other sectors along its vast value chain, tourism has the potential to contribute—directly and indirectly—to all 17 SDGs.

Impact of COVID-19 on Tourism

Global tourism suffered its worst year on record in 2020, with international arrivals dropping by 74% according to the UNWTO World Tourism Barometer released in January 2021. Destinations worldwide welcomed 1 billion fewer international arrivals in 2020 than in the previous year, due to an unprecedented fall in demand and widespread travel restrictions. This compares with the 4% decline recorded during the 2009 global economic crisis. The negative trend continued in 2021, with the tourist arrivals of the month of January dropping by 87% in comparison to the previous year.
Overall, the collapse in international travel represents an estimated loss of USD 1.3 trillion in export revenues, more than 11 times the loss recorded during the 2009 global economic crisis. The crisis has put between 100 and 120 million direct tourism jobs at risk, many of them in small and medium-sized enterprises.

Looking ahead, UNWTO has outlined two scenarios for 2021, which consider a possible rebound in international travel in the second half of the year. These are based on a number of factors, most notably a major lifting of travel restrictions, the success of vaccination programmes or the introduction of harmonized protocols such as the Digital Green Certificate planned by the European Commission.

The first scenario points to a rebound in July, which would result in a 66% increase in international arrivals for the year 2021 compared to the historic lows of 2020. In this case, arrivals would still be 55% below the levels recorded in 2019. The second scenario considers a potential rebound in September, leading to a 22% increase in arrivals compared to last year. Still, this would be 67% below the levels of 2019.

As to the Dominican Republic, as of 27 April 2021, there have been 265,403 confirmed cases of COVID-19 with 3459 deaths, reported to WHO1. As of 23 April 2021, a total of 1,000,000 vaccine doses have been administered. While of moderate impact in comparison to other countries of the region, the effects of the global economic shutdown have had a serious impact on the island. According to the World Bank country office, the country’s GDP was expected to contract by 4.3% in 2020, and remain below its potential in 2021 and 2022. As a country highly dependent on remittances and tourism arrivals, such a prolonged economic repercussion can severely affect progress made in achieving country relevant Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), especially in the areas of poverty reduction, education, job creation and economic upscaling.

Tourism in the Dominican Republic

1 Dominican Republic: WHO Coronavirus Disease (COVID-19) Dashboard With Vaccination Data | WHO Coronavirus (COVID-19) Dashboard With Vaccination Data
According to the World Bank, the COVID-19 pandemic pushed the Dominican Republic into its first recession in nearly 25 years, with an estimated loss of 40,000 jobs between March and October 2020\(^2\). Prior to the outbreak, the Dominican Republic was one of the fastest growing economies of Latin America and the Caribbean (LAC), with a 6.1% average growth rate between 2015 and 2019.

Tourism, together with construction and mining, is one of the main economic sectors of the country. In 2019, international tourist arrivals reached 6.4 million, with a 5% annual growth rate over a 10-year period. Until the outbreak of the pandemic and the global economic shutdown, tourism accounted for 36% of the total exports and USD 7.5 billion in export revenues. In 2020, a 63% decline was registered, very much in-line with regional results (-69%).

As a cross-cutting sector, the downfall in tourism has produced negative ramifications across the economy. Women and unskilled workers have been worst hit, with the national poverty rate rising to 14%. Small and medium-enterprises directly connected to the tourism industry have also been severely impacted due to a year-round decline in international visitation. While a nationwide curfew is in place, airports remain fully operational and a negative COVID-19 test (PCR and/or serology) is not mandatory for visiting the country. That being said, full recovery and positive summer seasonal results are dependent on the vaccination rollout, both nationally and in the main source markets of North America and Europe. On the positive side, its strategic location and good connectivity, its strong tourism brand and related tourism products – well known beaches and resorts, plus a variety of sports, recreation and ecotourism options – justify an optimistic outlook for the second half of 2021.

II. OVERVIEW: “COVID-19 TOURISM RECOVERY TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE FOR THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC”
