Dear Affiliate Members,

I am pleased to share with you the Vol. 32 of our AM News Bulletin.

May has been the month of FITUR, the Madrid International Tourism Fair. Despite the challenges posed by the crisis, the organization of this big in-person event sent a clear message: the tourism sector is ready to restart.

At the UNWTO Affiliate Members Department we tried to make our participation as consistent as possible, by organizing several activities such as the Expert Meeting on Accessible Tourism, the Affiliate Members Corner, and the Panel of Experts on Screen Tourism in collaboration with Netflix. I am very proud of the level of participation and interest showed towards these events and I take this opportunity to thank all the organizations which supported us.

Now it is time to focus on the implementation of all the other projects and initiatives included in our Programme of Work. As you know, we are making great progress in the process of reform of the legal framework of the Affiliate Members, which is a priority as it will enable us to provide better services and add value to the membership.

Furthermore, we continue developing the activities of our Working Groups. In particular, I refer to the WG on Accessible Tourism, whose main outcome, the publication “Accessibility and Inclusive Tourism Development in Nature Areas” is now available in the UNWTO E-Library, and the WG on Scientific Tourism, which is advancing towards the organization of the 1st International Conference on Astrotourism that will take place in Evora (Portugal) from 8-11 of September.

We are also finalizing a global report on Screen Tourism and Cultural Affinity in collaboration with Netflix, as part of our commitment towards the priority line of action Tourism and Audiovisual industry. It will be soon available in our E-Library.

Lastly, we are working on the organization of two important events: the Platino Awards Gala “17 Awards, 17 SDGs”, in collaboration with EGEDA, that will be held in Madrid from 27 September – 2 October, and the World Sports Tourism Congress with the Catalan Tourism Board, that will be celebrated in Lloret de Mar the 25-26 of November.

In this respect, I would like to encourage you to visit our AMConnected platform regularly to find the latest updates and information on these and other activities of the Affiliate Members Department.

As always, I am at your disposal and look forward to hearing any comments you might have.

Yours sincerely,

Ion Vilcu

The “tourism of the stars”, or Astrotourism, promoted by the Starlight Foundation is an emerging, high-quality and innovative modality of sustainable and responsible tourism, which in turn is a driver of the local economy. It combines the observation of the sky with activities relates to this natural resource; starts, galaxies and the dissemination of astronomy.

In order to respond to the growing interest in this kind of tourism, the Working Group also discussed the development of a “Guide for the creation of the Astrotourism product in destinations”. This guide would be aimed at providing comprehensive information for tourism administrations at different levels on how to get it started with Astrotourism, giving them the chance to further diversity their tourism offer.

At this meeting the WG-AMLR approved by consensus the amendments to articles 1 to 5 of the Rules, related to the Affiliate Membership. These changes include, among other issues, a better definition of the profile of candidates eligible to join the UNWTO Affiliate Membership and solid admission criteria for new members.

Within the framework of the Expert Meeting on Accessible Tourism held at FITUR, the UNWTO Affiliate Members officially launched the publication “Accessibility and Inclusive Tourism Development in Nature Areas – Compendium of Best Practices”.

This publication, now available in the UNWTO E-Library, is the result of the work carried out in the last months by the Working Group on Accessible Tourism, coordinated by the Affiliate Members Department and chaired by the Spanish Network for Accessible Tourism (RedEstable).

This compilation of best practices and the conclusive recommendations are a joint effort showcasing case studies that deserve visibility due to the outstanding way they have provided innovative, inclusive and sustainable solutions that provide accesso to nature for all. Furthermore, the publication also raises awareness on a fundamental mission for the tourism sector, namely: making tourism development in nature areas more inclusive and accessible for all.

We are currently working on making the publication accessible, so enabling persons with visual impairments to access to its contents!

I strongly encourage you all to share with your partners, colleagues and other stakeholders to promote accessibility as a fundamental right.
As part of the organization of the World Sports Tourism Congress, that will take place in Lloret de Mar, Catalonia (Spain) from 25-26 November 2021, the UNWTO and the Catalan Tourism Board invite academics, researchers, and industry practitioners to submit their thoughts on innovative ideas and future research topics in the form of thought-provoking essays and posters for its consideration. The role of the Scientific Committee that was created is to stretch the thinking and move the future agenda in different directions. Its special session that will be celebrated during the Congress should move away from the traditional form of academic papers and, instead, encourage new ways of presenting innovative ideas, creative thinking, and research proposals.

It is worth to underline that no one is excluded from making a submission. In the first instance, the submissions should be in a written format, but the Committee is open to suggestions as to how the ideas can be presented in their final format during the Congress (i.e., podcast, videos or other new media).

All the technical details on how to submit your essays and posters can be found here. The deadline for submission is 30th June 2021.

UNWTO opens call for “Best Tourism Villages”

The initiative includes three pillars:

1. The ‘Best Tourism Villages by UNWTO’ Label: it will recognize a village which is an outstanding example of a rural tourism destination

2. The ‘Best Tourism Villages by UNWTO’ Upgrade Programme: it will benefit a number of villages that do not fully meet the Label criteria and will receive support from UNWTO and its partners

3. The ‘Best Tourism Villages by UNWTO’ Network: it will provide a space for exchanging experiences and good practices, learnings and opportunities.

UNWTO Member States can present up to three villages to be assigned by the Initiative before the 31st of July.

UNWTO HIGHLIGHTS

UNWTO published its latest barometer covering the period January-March 2021

Between January and March 2021 destinations around the world welcomed 180 million fewer international arrivals compared to the first quarter of last year. Asia and the Pacific continued to suffer the lowest levels of activity with a 94% drop in international arrivals over the three-month period. Europe recorded the second largest decline with -83%, followed by Africa (-81%), the Middle East (-78%) and the Americas (-71%).

This all follows on from the 73% fall in worldwide international tourist arrivals recorded in 2020, making it the worst year on record for the sector. The latest survey of the UNWTO Panel of Tourism Experts shows prospects for the May-August period improving slightly, thanks to the pace of the vaccination rollout, the EU Digital Green Certificate and other policies which have boosted hopes for a rebound in some markets.

The Barometer also shows the economic toll of the pandemic. International tourism receipts in 2020 declined by 64% in real terms, equivalent to a drop of over US$ 900 billion, while the total loss in export revenues from international tourism amount to nearly US$ 1.1 trillion.

PERU: BLENDED LEARNING: CHALLENGE AND OPPORTUNITY FOR TRAINING IN TOURISM

Adapting to the new normal requires innovative strategies in all fields, including training in Tourism. Thus, since this month, Peru’s Tourism Training Center CENFOTUR, begins its new academic semester with the implementation of Blended learning as the centrepiece of its training: combining e-learning with face-to-face training for practical courses and operational skills.

This innovative methodology will benefit more than 200 young people in three cities in the country who, due to the pandemic, continually cannot yet return to classrooms. This measure also combines the use of interactive tools such as Zoom and Office 365, integrating real-time and asynchronous training, allowing students to continue their studies and strengthen their digital and technical skills on an ongoing basis. For the months of May and June it is planned to provide interactive workshops on gastronomy at a distance. This measure plans to definitively integrate this type of learning for the coming years.
